Profile

I am a hardworking and dedicated person who is passionate about everything I do. Staying in a foreign country by myself has made me more confident and independent and taught me the value of working as a team to achieve goals. I am an enthusiastic and inquisitive person and I use my initiative to meet and resolve challenges. I have always been punctual and am adaptable. I am a well-organized, reliable and a responsible person. I have excellent interpersonal skills and have vast experience in leadership roles and would love the opportunity to learn more.
